OCTOBER 2021

THANK YOU!

Thank you to all the parents who volunteered to decorate their vehicles and to give out candy at Nauset Youth Alliance’s Trunk or Treat event this past Friday. The night was a huge success and turnout surpassed all expectations. We look forward to repeating the event next year.

STAFF BIOS

Below are several staff bios, some who didn’t make the initial sharing of bios at the beginning of the year, and others for staff who have been hired since.

Emma McBrearty, Eddy Site Coordinator

Emma McBrearty serves as the Site Coordinator at Eddy. She grew up and went to college in southern Georgia. She graduated with a degree in Middle Grades Education, focusing on Math and English Language Arts, and Human Resources. Since moving to the Cape in the summer of 2020, she has worked at Nauset Youth Alliance (last school year at Stony Brook and the summer program) and a bakery in Chatham. She loves to craft, walk her dog at our beautiful beaches, and shop at any thrift store or estate sale!

Emily Fowler, Eddy Group Leader

Emily has multiple years of childcare experience and adores working with children. She has a passion for the arts and looks forward to Inspiring young minds to be creative and let their imagination flourish. She hopes to be able to provide a fun and safe environment for the NYA students and looks forward to having an excellent year!

Ronnie Brocklebank, Stony Brook Group Leader

Veronica Brocklebank a/k/a Teacher Ronnie or Miss Ronnie is a semi-retired Educational Assistant who worked in the Nauset Integrated Preschool Program here at Stony Brook Elementary School from 1997- 2018. She was a long-term substitute in the preschool program until March 2020. When not working at NYA she enjoys cooking, baking, gardening, and knitting. Ronnie is married and the mother of 2 grown sons.

Judy Langelier, Stony Brook Group Leader

Judy has enjoyed being a preschool teacher for over 30 years, working in Yarmouth and Dennis schools. She and her husband reside in the Town of Brewster. Judy has three grown children and five grandchildren. Her greatest pleasure is spending time with them. In her spare time, she enjoys reading, taking nature walks, weekends in Maine and lunch with friends.

Jennifer Loomis, Stony Brook Group Leader

Jenny grew up in Sandwich before doing her undergraduate work at the Massachusetts College of Liberal Arts. She got her master's degree in public administration at Suffolk University. She has worked with children at the YMCA, Latham Center, and the May Institute and served as a paraprofessional at Deerfield Valley Elementary School. Jenny lives in Brewster with her second-grade daughter.

Molly Daley, Eddy Group Leader

Molly grew up in Harwich, MA and attended Monomoy Regional High School. As a senior she worked in the Monomoy Cooperative Learning Program every afternoon serving as an assistant group leader. Her affinity for working with children has led her to studying at Cape Cod Community College for an associates degree in Early Elementary Education. She plans to seek her bachelors degree at UMass-Amherst.
